Understanding how anxiety works

Think about the last time you felt worried or scared

What was happening in different parts of your body:

- Face
- Throat
- Chest
- Arms
- Legs

DOES THIS LOOK FAMILIAR?

Our body has detected a threat and is dealing with it by getting ready to run – just like our prehistorical ancestors!

University of Reading When anxiety can be a good thing

Overcoming anxiety as a skill for life

When is anxiety a problem?

Anxiety disorder

When it causes distress and interferes in life

At school/college/work
At home and in family life
With other people/friends
Taking part in leisure activities and hobbies

Helping your child to develop skills

Particular thoughts can keep anxiety going and make it worse thinking in a threat-focused, negative way Teachers I'm going to think I am fail my stupid What if I am exams wearing the wrong clothes? My friends Everyone think I am will laugh at ugly. me

What messages do they hear at school?

- 'This is your only chance'
- 'You have to get it right first time'
- 'It has to be perfect'
- 'You can be good at everything, you just need to work harder'
- 'School/exams/tests performance is the only way to show your worth'
- 'You don't have very long, time is running out'

DOES THIS LOOK FAMILIAR?

Particular behaviours (aimed at keeping us safe) can keep anxiety going

These thoughts and behaviours make anxiety worse by creating a vicious cycle

Worried no one likes me

No one talks to me

No one will hang out with me at break

Go to the library at break

But in the long run trying to control the anxiety in this way keeps the problem going and can make it worse...

These thoughts and behaviours make anxiety worse by creating a vicious cycle

Worried no one likes me

Focusing on the worry

No one talks to me

No one will hang out with me at break

Go to the library at break

Allow avoidance or other safety behaviours

Sometimes well-meaning school staff can end up (inadvertently) reinforcing the problem...

Think about your son or daughter

- How does their anxiety present at home?
- What impact does this have on them and your family?
- How does their anxiety present at school?
- Are there differences between home and school?

Managing anxiety

The way to get over anxiety is to challenge anxious thoughts and develop more realistic thinking

What I believe will happen...

What actually happens...

NEGATIVE THINKING

All or nothing thinking

Sometimes called 'black and white thinking'

If I'm not perfect I have failed

Either I do it right or not at all

Overgeneralizing

"everything is always rubbish" "nothing good ever happens" Seeing a pattern based upon a single event, or being overly broad in the conclusions we draw

Mental filter

Only paying attention to certain types of evidence

Noticing our failures but not seeing our successes

Disqualifying the positive

Discounting the good things that have happened or that you have done for some reason or another

That doesn't count

Jumping to conclusions

2 + 2 = 5

There are two key types of jumping to conclusions:

- Mind reading (imagining we know what others are thinking)
- Fortune telling (predicting the future)

Magnification (catastrophising) & minimization

Blowing things out of proportion (catastrophizing), or inappropriately shrinking something to make it seem less important

Emotional reasoning

Assuming that because we feel a certain way what we think must be true

I feel embarrassed so I must be an idiot

Labelling

Assigning labels to ourselves or other people

I'm a loser I'm completely useless They're such an idiot

should

Using critical words like 'should', 'must', or 'ought' can make us feel guilty, or like we have already failed

If we apply 'shoulds' to other people the result is often frustration

Personalization

"this is my fault" Blaming yourself or taking responsibility for something that wasn't completely your fault

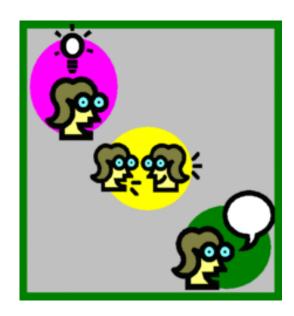

Conversely, blaming other people for something that was your fault

Managing anxiety

The most important part of getting over anxiety is to face fears (but in a graded manageable way) through exposure

Managing anxiety around social situations

- 1. Recognise that thinking may not be true
- Recognise how you may be doing things to stay safe (being in head, thinking about how you are coming across, trying not to draw attention to self)
- 1. Expose yourself to situations where you can test out your predictions
- E.g.
  - Asking for something in a shop
  - Speaking to a stranger
  - Putting hand up in class and answering a question
  - Chatting to someone that you don't know well

Managing worries about real-life problems

What if...?

For real life problems, use problem-solving to move from problems to solutions

- 1. Identify problem
- 2. Generate lots of practical solutions
- 3. Choose one, implement it
- 4. Afterwards, review whether it worked
- 5. If it didn't choose/implement another
- Use this all time (not just when they are anxious)

Then what...

Working with your school

The importance of consistency between home and school

Family members and school staff can help by encouraging the teenager to be independent, face fears and give attention to brave behaviour

- Praise brave attempts
- Give them choices but not avoidance
- Role model failure
- Work together to share helpful strategies

How to prepare for a meeting with school

- Emails can be dangerous
- Book the meeting
- What do you want from the meeting
- Make notes of what you want to say
- Consider whether having your son/daughter there will be helpful
- Take someone with you for support
- Recognise limitations of the school

How you might encourage school to implement strategies

- Be realistic
- What is important?
- Prepare a short explanation
- Identify one key link

What is manageable in your household?

Being a parent is a tough job

Be realistic about what you can and can't do

Think about how it will work in your household
